

Spine: Trebuchet MS 12

according.to.kim, April - August 2004
Volume 1

Cover: Trebuchet MS 34 / 25 / 16

according.to.kim

April - August 2004

Volume 1

Title page: Trebuchet MS 25 / 16 / 16

according.to.kim

April - August 2004

by Kim Byrns

Copyright page: Georgia 9

Copyright 2010, Kimberly Kristine Byrns.

This book was produced from the author's blog:

<http://www.kimbyrns.ca/accordingtokim/>

Introduction page: Georgia 16 / 9

Why I created this weblog

I think it's because I feel compelled to record information. Evidence abounds. As a technical writer, I actually make a living documenting things -- and I like it! Two of my favourite hobbies, genealogy and scrapbooking, are all about recording the past and preserving memories. I also take a lot of photographs of my girls -- often doing very ordinary things -- because I don't want to forget any aspect of their babyhood and childhood. I want to remember every detail! And I know darn well that I won't remember every detail if I don't record it in some way.

My goal with this weblog is simply to record things -- everyday sorts of things -- about my life, our life as a family, what my children are doing, and how they're growing. I expect I'll be throwing in some other topics now and then to reflect what I'm thinking about and interested in at the moment. I don't expect this to be interesting to anyone but me, but if you want to read what I record here, feel free!

(Excerpt from April 13, 2004)

Blank page

Body pages

1st body page on right (page 5) - lower half layout

Pages without photos - two column layout

Pages with photos - layout dictated by photos

Photo album pages - thumbnail layout

Header: Trebuchet MS 9

Left pages

according.to.kim

Right pages

April - August 2004

Blog posts: Georgia 16 / 9

Oh-oh!

I've had an extremely busy three days and I'm so very tired right now. There's no way I can get into details of the weekend thus...

Space between posts: 3 lines of Georgia 9

Footer: Georgia 9